silky, just give FPR complete control of the awards & the associated domain name & be done with it. It was his idea, his hard work, all you did was register the name "to help him out" You keep avoiding the questions being asked by playing dumb (at least I think your playing dumb), just answer them, & sort out this problem.

I'm sure everyone appreciates yr the work you put into this forum, & the fact that you set it up in the first place, but as nu mentioned above, without the members of this forum, it's nothing

If you piss everyone off there'll be nothing left for you to

The fact that nu has gone speaks volumes...the sooner you open your eyes the better

Roly, I was up most of last night answering questions, so if you have one now Im willing to answer it?

Name names Silky. Please do, as this conspiritorial bulls**t is beyond comprehension.

I can't see that anyone wants to remove your omnipotence. You carry on playing God. No-one else wants the job. I would personally back you all the way if asked who should run the forum. It's yours.

I really think you've made a grave error though, as there will be no Urban Art Awards next year now. No-one is going to want to organise it after the way FPR has been treated and you yourself admit to being too unwell and too shy to have the skills to achieve such a task.

A big man can step up and admit his wrongs and make them right. Its called personal growth. You had the chance to nip all this in the bud but instead allowed it to grow into a rose garden.

You personally have my support for your forum Silky, but you do not have it for the awards ceremony next year.

Hi Ya! Welcome to the forum 🙄

People were asking questions on behalf of others. People were applying pressure on to an individual in an attempt to get what they want. People were trying to get as many "Friends" online at one time to be able to make it appear that the general forums opinion was against my actions (not that I have actually done anything)

you refused

oh, and just to clarify, I don't know FPR, cannot regard him as a friend, infact - I've never spoken to him or pm'd him, and have no conspiratorial leanings to an outsider, you seem to have muscled in on his idea, and are now standing back & holding your hands up feigning innocence

Im affriad not 😞 I came up with the name, and Fins has said he does not like it anyway 😞 so I cant see any reason for him wanting it?

can't you see that it's nothing to do with the name & the fact that FPR doesn't like it, it was the principle.

all you had to do was agree to this, and save 10 pages of vitriol on this forum...now important members have left & you're walking around in a daze protesting your innocence seriously dude, sort it out...for the sake of the forum and your own reputation

Yes.

Refusing to co-register the rights to the Urban Art Awards when requested.

I can't make it any plainer Silky. Its all this comes down to in my eyes.

As for getting people online at the same time, you are convincing yourself of that, no-one else. We're always on here! But in answer to that claim on my behalf, I was at the football last night and logged on when I got in, only to find a s**tstorm raging.

None of us want this Silky. Its not personal. Its a question of morality. We want this place to be a fun, jovial friendly hide away from the outside world. But we also want fair play from EVERYONE and it feels as if that is not the case.

ok everyone else seems have there opinions so thought I would throw my bit in. All this arguing and discussion surely should have happened before the event?....its a bit late arguing about things post event....it started as an idea an event for the forum (i thought nothing more than that) and I guess people now see the prospect of the ceremony as a money spinner otherwise it simply doesnt matter who owns names etc.....or is it a completely altruistic???

If there is no resolution then simply you need to set up your own/seperate events with a different name involve other forums etc.....at the end of the day there are mutple awards events in all lines of business/media etc so I really dont see the issue....just because somone has an "idea" does not mean they own it....however right or wrong that might be.

Hope I havent stepped on anyones toes as I dont know any of you guys personally so I find it a little uncomfortable giving you my comments. However after reading thios I felt compelled to comment. Reading this thread and everyone essentially arguing about simply an idea the resolution is work together (in what ever form both parties are happy with) or hold seperate events...but essentially all this bickering is pretty sad (as in disapointing), just meet up see if you can find a solution if not go your seperate ways simple as that.

Just seems its all getting a little nasty...anyway hope I havent offended anyone concerned.

If this place was an absolute s**t hole, and it was terribly run (and before you say it is, I will reply in asking so why are you here?) I would understand why people would question me being not willing to hand over something I came up with, ordered and paid for.

Bollocks. What you are doing is like Speebe claiming the awards show is his because he forged the actual metal awards.

But what's the point. This is going nowhere.

You won't have any awards to argue about next year.

I've tried to stay out of this as much as I can but here is my proposal. This proposal is made in the spirit of trying to bring a compromise to this problem. I am posting this on both here and the wallkandy forum

- 1) Next year there should be ONE awards ceremony. It should be run by FPR and should be independent of any forum, but promoted on all forums.
- 2) The name of the awards ceremony is pretty immaterial as long as there is only one. If Silky want to keep Urbanartawards.com then he should be allowed to keep it. The awards can be called something else.

3) The votes should all be cast on a seperate website to ensure the integrity of the vote and should be subject to independent audit from someone.

4) The ceremony should be run on a not-for-profit basis at worst and ideally in aid of charity. People could maybe be charged a nominal sum to attend the ceremony to offset any costs. There could be a small charity auction as well at the event.

On a seperate note:

1) The name wallkandy and all its variants should be removed from the banned list of words on banksy.info

2) There be a meeting between FPR, Police Aware, Silky and other to clear the air. I am happy to try and mediate that meeting as I post on both forums and don't have a personal axe to grind against anyone.

3) At the meeting we can discuss amongst other things the continued banning of some members on Banksy.info and whether that can be resolved; the needless name calling and unpleasant personal attacks on Silky and whether that can avoided in future; world peace and the next banksy release.

Dated the 15th December -

Hi Mark

Yeah, I would not have a clue where to start organizing the Awards evening and stuff like that Im just too shy to talk to people and be involved in that side of things You did a great job last night, and under very hard conditions without the Mic working

The Online Voting, PR, Website part of things is the area that I can be of most help What I have in mind is having a forum just for the awards, but heavily linked to from all the forums. And next year I can be in more contact with the Artists to get them to tell their fans about the awards to get them nominated and Voted Let the Artists help us to promote the Awards I think one important thing is to make sure the Artists are proud to win an award Has Speebe been paid for making the Awards? I was just thinking that he should at the very least be paid the cost of materials. This is where I think a Awards PayPal account would be a good idea for you to set up so then I can make donations links to it as soon as possible, so you can save up some cash to help pay for things next year If we want it to be bigger and better, things are gonna start to cost Like I said before, the PayPal account could be done so a small group of us know the login details, so we can all see its above board.

Oh, I was just thinking it might be a good idea to start a thread on the Awards boards asking people for ideas for the awards 2008? while the event is still fresh in peoples minds That ok wid you?

can we bury the hatchet and go with this? Everyone put down their axes to grind, step away from their paranoia and say ' you know what the awards were a great idea, mistakes have been made, communications not clear, but lets let bygones be bygones and make it bigger and better next year?'

PLEASE for the sake of us who want to stay here and chill - PLEASE LETS FIX THIS NOW with the above idea

Dan, you're totally missing the point...

You're being like the guys I get ringing here periodically with threats that if I don't buy up the domain names related to the ones I own then they'll be passed on and re-directed to my competition...

There are right and wrong ways of going about things and this is totally the wrong way... You know my thoughts on the forum as I told you the other day, we all respect you for setting them up and appreciate the valuable resource your initiative has provided SO why do this now, I've spent the first hour of this morning reading this thread, can't you see it's your long standing active members who are so incensed with what is going on... I've never got so angry reading a thread on a forum before, and I've never heard such bullshit come from one person before... Do you not see the right moral route here? You can't be so blind to miss it!

If you ever need a new job, ring Gordon Brown, you'll piss on anything his spin doctors have to offer!

I believe virtually everything I read, and I think that is what makes me more of a selective human than someone who doesn't believe anything.

Hi Mark 🤔

Yeah, I would not have a clue where to start organizing the Awards evening and stuff like that 🤔 Im just too shy to talk to people and be involved in that side of things 🤔 You did a great job last night, and under very hard conditions without the Mic working 🤔

The Online Voting, PR, Website part of things is the area that I can be of most help 🤔 What I have in mind is having a forum just for the awards, but heavily linked to from all the forums. And next year I can be in more contact with the Artists to get them to tell their fans about the awards to get them nominated and Voted 🤔 Let the Artists help us to promote the Awards 🤔 I think one important thing is to make sure the Artists are proud to win an award 🤔

Has Speebee been paid for making the Awards? 🤔 I was just thinking that he should at the very least be paid the cost of materials. This is where I think a Awards PayPal account would be a good idea for you to set up 🤔 so then I can make donations links to it as soon as possible, so you can save up some cash to help pay for things next year 🤔 If we want it to be bigger and better, things are gonna start to cost 🤔 Like I said before, the PayPal account could be done so a small group of us know the login details, so we can all see its above board.

Oh, I was just thinking it might be a good idea to start a thread on the Awards boards asking people for ideas for the awards 2008? while the event is still fresh in peoples minds 🤔 That ok wid you?

Silky 🤔

very good, sounds like your trying to muscle in & play a bigger part in future, when it's not yours in the first place 🤔

I have been happy to talk, and come up with solutions all along 🤔 but after a week of being stabbed in the back, and being accused of everything under the sun 🤔 the others involved have put themselves in a very bad position 🤔 you are so unbelievably far off the mark with that comment that you can't even see the mark. if that's what you think this is about...that's very very sad.

I've tried to stay out of this as much as I can but here is my proposal. This proposal is made in the spirit of trying to bring a compromise to this problem. I am posting this on both here and the walkandy forum

- 1) Next year there should be ONE awards ceremony. It should be run by FPR and should be independent of any forum, but promoted on all forums.
- 2) The name of the awards ceremony is pretty immaterial as long as there is only one. If Silky want to keep Urbanartawards.com then he should be allowed to keep it. The awards can be called something else.
- 3) The votes should all be cast on a seperate website to ensure the integrity of the vote and should be subject to independent audit from someone.
- 4) The ceremony should be run on a not-for-profit basis at worst and ideally in aid of charity. People could maybe be charged a nominal sum to attend the ceremony to offset any costs. There could be a small charity auction as well at the event.

On a seperate note:

- 1) The name walkandy and all its variants should be removed from the banned list of words on banksy.info
- 2) There be a meeting between FPR, Police Aware, Silky and other to clear the air. I am happy to try and mediate that meeting as I post on both forums and don't have a personal axe to grind against anyone.
- 3) At the meeting we can discuss amongst other things the continued banning of some members on Banksy.info and whether that can be resolved; the needless name calling and unpleasant personal attacks on Silky and whether that can avoided in future; world peace and the next banksy release.

RESPONSES TO THIS ABOVE POST PLEASE SILKY AND FPR - the rest of us should now back away - yes guys?

What! 😊 I was suggesting he set up a paypal account to I can help HIM raise some money to HELP pay for the awards next year. I also suggested that it would be nice if Speebe got some money to help him at least cover the cost of materials for the awards.
